

PHP Agency Inc. Announces Addition of American National Insurance Company

September 6, 2017 (DALLAS) PHP Agency Inc. (“PHP”), one of the fastest growing financial marketing organizations in the US, announced today that the company has added American National Insurance Company to the Company’s line-up of life insurance carrier partners.

For over 110 years, American National has been committed to a simple vision; helping families reach higher and grow stronger by offering life insurance products that help provide security and confidence. This consistent mission aligns with PHP’s own commitment to help families in the multi-cultural middle class.

Patrick Bet-David, Founder and CEO of PHP, said, “American National is a premier carrier and one that has consistently focused on clients with the same vigor and dedication that PHP shows for our clients. We see strong alignment which is why we are pleased to add American National and their line-up of life insurance products to the offering that is available to PHP Agents.

PHP was founded in 2009 to expand the availability of life insurance and annuities to the middle class and is licensed in 49 states. The company has been profitable and fast growing since its inception.

About PHP Agency
